Tendency Toward Lower Figures on New York 'Change-Indianapolis Markets Less Active.

At New York, yesterday, money on call was easy at 1 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 3951/2 per cent. Sterling exchange strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86@4.861/2 for demand and $4.8514@4.8514 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.86@4.8614 and $4.87@4.87%; commercial bills, $4.8414@4.8414.

Silver certificates, 63%c bid. Bar silver closed at 631/2c per ounce; at London, 291/4d. Total sales of stocks were 225,265 shares, including: Sugar, 98,200; Burlington, 16,900; Chicago Gas, 9,900; Distillers', 28,300; Missouri Pacific, 4,300; National Lead, 5,400; Northwest, 2,100; Reading, 6,600; Rock Island, 2,900; St. Paul, 18,200; Western Union, Jugar and Distilling furnished more than calf of the business of the Stock Exchange yesterday, and these two and others of the industrial group were the shares which fluctuated most widely, the tendency in the main being toward lower figures. Sugar seemed to have lost all inside support and was thrown on the market in large blocks. Most of the long stock put out is claimed to be in liquidation of bull pools and the short interest increased their lines materially. As a result Sugar receded rapidly with occasional rallies due to covering, which were quickly wiped out, and the last sale made at 901/4 was the lowest of the day and 41/2 per cent. below Wednesday's final sale. The preferred lost 1%. All of the recent unfavorable rumors regarding the condition of the Distilling company were received, and at times the selling in the shares was brisk. The stock receded only % below Wednesday night's closing, and subsequently recovered ½, making a net gain of ¼. The admissions by Western officials of the trust that a reorganization was necessary and the belief that if this were accomplished a new set of directors would be forced into the company was the main sustaining influence. Tobacco shows a decline of 1 per cent.; United States Cordage, preferred, 14; Lead, preferred, 3, and Lead, common, 4, while Cordage, common, and Cotton Oil, preferred, are up 1 per cent.. Leather, preferred, % and General Electric, 1/4. In the rallway list the grangers were most prominent in the dealings, and, except St. Paul, which stands unchanged on the day, show fractional gains as a result of the day's trading. Burlington & Quincy was firmly held during the morning, and in the afternoon, on covering of short contracts, rose 1 per cent., to 74, closing only 1/4 below the best. Rock Island, after receding 1/4, advanced 1/4 and reacted 1/4. St. Paul moved within a range of 34 per cent, throughout the day, advancreacting % and rallying %. The supply of floating stock of the grangers is rather limited and accounts partly for the small operations on the bear side. Read-ing was bought on Philadelphia orders, advancing %, and there were reports that the plan of reorganization is gaining ground, but there was little demand for the stock in the late dealings, although no pressure to sell, and a 1/4 per cent. I action took place. Manhattan broke a per cent. on the placing of a modern block of stock on the market, and rallies . In the rest of the list the dealing was very light and the speculation unimportant, the only changes on the day above a fraction being the declines of 4 per cent. in Consolidated Gas and 1½ in American Express and advance of 4 per cent. in St. Paul & Duluth. The market closed "m.

The bond market was fairly firm ... the early dealings, but became easier during the afternoon and closed rather unset-The day's transactions aggregated $958,000. The changes in the active issues were slight, but some of the active securities made wide fluctuations. Declines were recorded in Lehigh Valley Terminal firsts of 4 per cent.; Erie second consols, trust receipts, 1%; Northern Pacific thirds, 1½, and Reading deferred incomes, 1. Duluth & Manitoba firsts, Dakota division, sold at 80, against 70% on July 30. Government bonds were easier. State

Trade Not as Active, but Prices in Most Lines Firm. Most of the houses yesterday were quite busy, and traveling salesmen are sending in good orders. On Commission row some complaint is heard of slow trade, but every day or two a new commission house starts up, and each one draws more or less trade from the older concerns. Fruits and vegetables are firmer in tone, but not quotably higher. An improvement in the quality of apples and Irish potatoes is noticeable, Cranberries are becoming quite plentiful, and prices are lower. The seed market is active. Clover is weak at quotations. Receipts of poultry and eggs are not large, consequently prices show more firmness. The local grain market is dull, prices breaking and shippers afraid to buy except to fill early orders, Track bids yesterday ruled as follows: Wheat-No. 2 red, 47e; No. 3 red, 44e;

Philadelphia Record. The handsome gowns of many an actress which have elicited murmurs of admiration l from the feminine portion of an audience. probably would not excite the same amount of interest if their antecedents were known. When the talented Miss Footlights appears upon the stage in some unusually dainty creation of the modiste's art, one would be loath to believe that the same gown may have graced the form of one of Philadelphia's society leaders at the last Assembly ball. Yet such is quite often the case. To be sure, the actress does not purchase her gown from the society woman. There are numerous mediums through which the exchange can be made, usually found in the classic precincts of South street. These dealers buy their stock, much of which is really as good as new, from the society women, who could not think of wearing the same costume more than three or four times in a season. Then they advertise in the theatrical papers and find a ready market. The business is said to be a profitable one all around.

The Walter Had His Say.

New York Tribune. Some of the simpler and quieter hotels in the Adirondack region are not the least comfortable, though their furnishings are primitive and their local waiters have not metropolitan ways. At one of these quiet houses a husband and wife, who were stopping for a few days on their way North, attracted by their pleasant manner the liking of the waiter detailed at the table. Madame, like a true American, called for a little more of some particularly nice ple, whereupon her husband rebuked her jocosely in his care for her health. "No, no, Milly," he said, "you have had quite enough pie for your good." "Never you mind him, Milly," said Elnathan, the waiter, leaning over her chair, a perfect mass of sympathy. "You kin hev all ther pie ther is; here's a hull one.'

Bub's Special Hat.

Syracuse Post. A few days since a woman entered a certain hat store. She had in tow a boy of about ten years of age. That is, his body was ten years old, but his face looked like a man of thirty. "I want a cheap hat for this boy. I don't care what it is, so long as it is cheap." ... The hatter pulled over his stock, and finally presented to the woman a hat worth about 50 cents. "I guess this will satisfy you," he said. "It is 50 cents." "All right; I'll take it. I wanted something cheap for the boy to have fits in," and then she went out.

CORN LED THE DROP

SLUMP OF 3-SC FOLLOWED BY BOTH WHEAT AND OATS.

Heavy Receipts of Grain in the Northwest Assisted the Bears in Their Repeated Raids.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 .- Corn started firm today, but under heavy selling weakened, closing %c lower for May. Wheat and oats went down with corn after early advances, wheat finishing unchanged for December and May oats be lower. Provisions closed with moderate gains. Another slight decline in the price of wheat inaugurated the day's business. December sold at 531/4c shortly after the opening and held between that and 53%c for an hour. The Northwestern receipts which for some days have been the most prominent bearish feature in the situation, once more contributed by their bulk to the encouragement of short selling. Minneapolis reported the receipts of 631 carloads and Duluth 292, making together 923 cars, compared with 955 on the corresponding day of the previous year. Foreign markets were generally called weak and dull at slightly lower quotations. Kansas City and St. Louis reported a little export business in wheat. Trading during the forenoon was very light, both on outside and local account. The primary Western markets received an aggregate somewhat exceeding 1,000,000 bushels, but of that quantity all but 100,000 bushels appeared at Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth. St. Louis, Toledo. Kansas City, Detroit and Peoria received together only 100,245 bushels. The feeling became firmer when the small winter-wheat market receipts were observed and when later cablegrams came in reporting a slightly firmer tone to the Liverpool market. December rose to 53%@53%c and touched 1-16c higher than that for an instant before the buying, which started in consequence of the small winter wheat receipts and better tone to the closing Liverpool, had exhausted itself. The Atlantic ports clearances for twenty-four hours were disappointingly light. The market, after acting close, began to give way at that point in sympathy with closing weakness in corn, although New York advised a fair inquiry for export and sales of seventeen boat loads; after selling as high as 53% @53%c. the price of December got down to 531/2c, where it closed. Corn was weak at the opening at 14@%c below the closing price of yesterday. May sold from 50% e down to 50c, and then settled for an hour or so at from 50% 650% c. When wheat began to show a bolder front corn followed in a similar manner, and reacted to 50%c. Tennessee was offering corn to arrive in St. Louis, a thing never heard of before, it was said. The drought district in Nebraska was reported to be asking Omaha for bids for old corn, and the railroad yards here were reported to be crammed full of loaded cars, for which there was no storage room. Under this and other bearish influences, combined with liberal selling, the market became very weak near the close and dropped all the gain it had made on the reaction from opening prices. It got down to 49%c for May, and closed at 49%@50c.

Trading in oats was of good volume, although divided up principally in small packages. Higher prices were scored, led by the advance in wheat and corn. Carrington-Hannah bought quite freely of May. The remainder of the trading was scattered among local dealers and scalpers. May started from 331/2 to 331/4c and gradually advanced to 34c. It weakened with corn later, and closed at 331/c. The provision market was firmer, and not much could be bought without an inducement in the shape of higher prices to the sellers. Shorts took some when they found that country holders had some for buying orders and none to sell. The opening was weak, in sympathy with the weakness in the grain markets at the same time. but the demand at the decline soon resulted in an advance, during which prices recovered all the early loss and added respectable amounts to the closing prices of the previous day. At the close pork, lard and ribs were each 10c higher. Freights, 11/c for wheat an. 13/c for corn to Buffalo. Estimates for Friday: Wheat, 00 cars; corn, 250 cars; oats, 175 cars; hogs, 15,000.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 .- Lower prices had to be accepted for about everything in the cattle line. The arrivals again exceed the number looked for, and there was an average decline of 10@15c. To-day's estimate was 16,000, making a supply for the last four days of 70,000, or 18,500 more than for the same time last week. Trade dragged heavily, and even at the reduced prices sellers were unable to find places for all of the stuff. It was thought that the cattle sold Monday at $6.45 would not have brought more than $6.25 on to-day's market, and the decline in that grade has been the least severe so far as native steers are concerned. About half the arrivals were natives, the remaining 8,000 being made up of 7,000 Westerns and 1,000 Texans. The bulk of the natives sold below $5.60 and the bulk of the rangers below $3.50. Stockers and feeders were dull at the recent decline. The hog market continued to sag. It was inactive and very weak from the beginning. and trading had not long been in progress before there was a clean loss of 10c. The top of the market was practically $6, though there were scattering sales at $6.05@6.10. Packers bid $5.30@5.50 for fair to good mixed and they bought most of their hogs at that range. Poor lots changed hands around $ and culls sold at $2.50@4.50. There has not been a decline of 40@50c within the last week, and to-day's market was the dullest experienced for a long time. The greater part of the 22,000 on sale crossed the scales at prices below $5.75, though the quality was the best seen here in many days. The receipts of sheep continue unaccountably heavy. The estimate for to-day was from 15,000 to 18,000, and the total for the last four days reaches 66,000, or 18,000 more than arrived during the same time last week. Of course, further concessions had to be made, the average of prices being about 10c lower than for yesterday and 30@40c lower than last week. Lambs were salable at $1.50@3.90 for poor to prime, with fancy as high as $4. Thousands remained unsold. Receipts-Cattle, 16,000; calves, 700; hogs, 20,000; sheep, 16,000.

IN A TRAMP'S LODGING HOUSE.

How One of the Gentry Got a Good Dinner for Nothing. New York Independent.

As to devices for swindling the kindhearted public, there is an inexhaustifund of reminiscence. Here is one of "You boys all know I have a knack of lookin' fair an' aboveboard an' talkin' kind o' soft and repentant-like when I wants anything. Well, one day last winter when I went out to Camridge and bummed a breakfast at a house there 'East Boston' told me about. Then I was thirsty, so I went to another house and asked for money. I sized the woman up pretty quick and played the racket of bein' willin' an' anxious to work-bore down on it hard, you know. She was so stirred up by the yarn spun her that she gave me a dime and invited me to come round again at 5 o'clock and get a good hot dinner. She didn't get no noonday meal, she said, 'cause she hadn't no kids, and har husband, he worked so far away he couldn't come home. You'd 'a' laughed yourself tired and hungry to see how glad she was I wanted to work. To spare my sensitive feelin', she kept tellin' me as how her husband would find me some wood to saw or somethin' else to do when he got home, so I needn't feel I was takin' charity.

"Of course, I was on hand at 5 o'clock. They made me wash my hands and set down to the table with them. Gee whiz! what grub! That was jest about the slickest dinner ever I set my teeth into. I don't suppose they's more'n two or three o you blokes ever had a night dinner; that's the kind that was, handed on in sections ('courses,' they call 'em) by a nigger wench. I may as well own up I felt powerful green myself along at first, and wished I was eatin' alone so's not to give away what a lot I was puttin' in. But they kep' pilin' my plate up to make me feel easy, and 'twa'n't long before I clean forgot all my fine manners and waded in with both feet. Um-m-m-m! I c'n taste them orange fritters now! "They got through eatin' before I did an' set to work with their mouths planning jobs for me down cellar an' out in the back yard. I felt my appetite slippin' away from me, for I seen I was billed to be a laborin' man sure enough unless I sprung some bluff on 'em mighty spry. So, all to oncet, I made like I was took until they was that frightened they laid me out flat on the lounge an' run for the brandy bottle-real French stuff, mind yer, smooth enough to cut a figure eight on with skates. "' Poor man! they kep' sayin'; 'he must 'a' been half starved.' You see they thought I'd been hungry so long that a square meal had done me up. I played off I was easier after the brandy, as, in course, I was; an' when I got strong enough to walk with a big colic. I squirmed an' held on to my stomach and screwed up my face

they give me more brandy an' money enough for a lodgin'.
"I promised to call around in the mornin' an' do the work if I was well enough, an' I hain't been well enough since. If any of you's got a hankerin' for the nicest feed goin' I can tell you how to find the house, an' if you're cooney like I was, you won't have to lift your hand for the grub. Only you'll have to get up a new game. Colic won't work in that house for some years to come. I take it.' Such a parading of the cleverness of their deceits is the most interesting and significant feature of the social intercourse of average men. Irretrievably Lost.
